We'll fly regardless

As part of an anniversary celebration of Switzerland's largest aviation sports association, small model aircraft were built and flown with disabled boys and girls. This event was supported by aeromodellers from various clubs in the region.

With great enthusiasm

From what I could see, the children got involved with great enthusiasm. Some of them seemed to be dreaming of moving through the air themselves. Thanks to the competent support from experienced aeromodellers, the project was a success. The most important aspect, however, was the joy and enthusiasm displayed by the children. Their ability to focus is something we can all learn from.

I would be happy to hear about and to report on further projects. Many thanks in advance.
